

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi
6300 Ocean Drive- Unit 5721
Corpus Christi, Texas 78412-5721

Islander Art Gallery in Hamlin Center, 4024 Weber, 78411
(361) 852.3350

No Shortage Here, No Shortage There

September 14–October 21, 2007

Opening Reception : Hosted by Laura and Tony Pletcher
September 14, 2007 :: 6pm–8pm with gallery talk at 6:00 pm

This exhibition responds to the question posed at the 2006 Fotofest about the intersection of violence and creativity by exploring the valuable commodity of fossil fuels. Designed and curated by internationally renowned Houston-based furniture designer Kelly G. Amen, this exhibition includes Amen's functional-art furniture and four other artists: Mary Rollins, poet; Philip Renteria, painter; Mark Hougham, installation artist; and Sergio Santos.

Related Programs:

09.15, 10am–12noon: Art and Environment:
Coffee with the Artists and geologist Tania Anders, Ph.D.
09.15, 1pm–3pm: Art in Action with tours and activities for all ages

The University Galleries are generously funded by TAMU-CC, Humanities Texas, Texas Commission of the Arts, Arts and Cultural Commission of Corpus Christi, and Friends of the University Galleries.

Visit us online at <http://art.tamucc.edu>

Non-profit
US Postage
PAID
Permit No. 954
Corpus Christi, TX